Dear Mr Powell,

I strongly disagree with the FCC decision of June 2

It sets up the probability that wealthy individuals or groups will be in a position to control the thinking of an entire population

It destroys a level playing field in the arena of media ownership and sets up the probability of thought control of the people by the very wealthy

Michael Copps and Nathan Adelstein gave reasonable statements of disagreement

And Kathleen Abernathy sounded as though she had been paid by some media conglomerate

I urge you to join with Messers, Copps and Adelstein on this important issue

Even if you happen to agree with the opinions of the present media conglomerates, the FCC decision was a bad precedent

In the future if people want to watch or read independent media, they will not have the chance All the independents will be bought out

Cordially,

Richard H Williams
